INTRIM

Why savvy decision makers are choosing timber mouldings from Intrim

Australian consumers are becoming more product and style savvy as they follow influencers, watch endless home design shows and spend hours trawling Pinterest and Instagram keeping up with the latest trends.

It is no wonder that building companies are having to offer more flexible options on the finishes schedules for style enhancements such as on trend skirting, architraves and wall panel treatments from Wainscoting, VJ or lining boards to satisfy the changing demand.

This is why builders are turning to Intrim Mouldings, the leading Australian Timber Moulding specialists. With more than 25 years' experience and more than 825 skirting boards, architrave, chair rail, wall paneling and other timber profiles, Intrim are experts in helping create spectacular interiors for their clients.

"The Intrim vision is to have a part in every one of their clients' truly magnificent building projects by providing them with a unique product to help them achieve their goal of making their interiors a timeless masterpiece. Our clients range from top tier interior designers and architects to luxury and custom home builders and home renovators, each one being just as important to us as the other," managing director Fred Quinsey said.

Intrim is rapidly evolving and continues to invest in state-of-the-art machinery and processes to provide fast and high-quality timber mouldings. With displays and people on the ground in Sydney, Melbourne and Brisbane they already supply nationwide, with guaranteed five days from order to dispatch for unprimed, and seven days for primed profiles.

"Our products are delivered on site when you need them, as we understand meeting your deadlines is of utmost importance," Fred said.

Intrim offer a range of material options so suit the different markets around Australia, from FSC certified responsibly sourced Finger Joined Pine to MDF.

"We offer a high-quality primed finish on all of our mouldings which will save your fixout and painting team's time on site. We also recently launched Fast Trim which is a revolutionary pre-scribed skirting and pre-mitred architraves system available on all our profiles. It's a game changer for builders who are under time and resource pressure, as they can save an additional 40-55% of the fix out time. That's some serious time and cost saving," Fred said.

Intrim also help consumers looking to renovate find a preferred installer, through the Preferred partner program listing these companies on their website. It makes it easier to connect consumers and trades who specialise in working with Intrim Timber Mouldings.

Committed to customer satisfaction, Intrim recently implemented the Trustpilot reviews platform asking every customer how they went.

Fred said "we felt it was important to give our customers the opportunity to easily provide us feedback, so we can continue to improve. Our team thrive on hearing from our clients and the great experiences they have with us and our products". Consumers and designers love the complimentary samples offered by Intrim via the website. They are available for most profiles so you have something tangible to visualise on your Vision Board to ensure you pick the right profile to suit your project.

Fred finished by saying "experience the Intrim difference for yourself, we look forward to working with you on your next project".

Intrim was founded in 1993 by the Quinsey family in Picton and has grown to become one of Australia's leaders in finely crafted quality timber mouldings, skirting, architraves and handrails for residential homes and commercial buildings. Australian owned and operated, we are committed to manufacturing locally, supporting our local community through job creation and investing in state-of-the-art equipment and processes.

Innovation, reducing environmental impact, helping customers make their interiors spectacular are what drives us. We love to share our customers projects using Intrim Mouldings on our website Gallery and Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn. Find out more at intrimmouldings.com.au
